

DON'T TELL COMEDY

Comedy's Worst Kept Secret

For Our Partners: Live Shows, Product Sampling, Digital Content, and Comics.

Don't Tell Comedy was built to make great live stand-up more accessible and more affordable. No two drink minimums. No inflated bar tab. Unfiltered voices in rooms nobody expects to find a comedy show in.

For nine years our audiences have bought tickets without knowing who is performing. The location is secret until the day before. The lineup is secret every single time. They buy on the strength of the brand and the trust we have built.

Local producers run the rooms in every market we operate in. A head office handles ticketing, partnerships and production. That is what makes a multi-market program operationally real rather than aspirational.

THE LARGEST INDEPENDENT STAND UP COMEDY NETWORK IN NORTH AMERICA FOR DIGITAL CONTENT AND LIVE SHOWS.

DTC LIVE SHOWS

Comedy in unique locations, everywhere

Every week we host over 100 shows in secret locations across North America. Comedy clubs are a bit stale for our taste. We do shows on skyscrapers, in skate shops, and the occasional steam ship. It is docked, so nobody throws up.

Ticket buyers know the neighborhood and the date. The address lands the day before. The lineup stays secret until the comics walk out. A modest ticket that over-delivers, in a room built for the night rather than booked for it.

We produce end to end: venue sourcing, talent booking, ticketing, staffing, licensing, permits and run of show. Our producers live in the markets they run, which is why a multi-market series holds together.

The shapes a night can take:

- The secret show. The core night, and the building block everything else scales from.
- The DTC All-Star show. A bigger-name lineup and a flagship moment.
- The co-owned event. Fully custom: venue, staffing, bar, talent, photo and video, all ours.
- The multi-night program. Several nights or several markets under one idea.
- The tour. Touring showcases, or shows produced under a partner's banner.

DTC IS IN 250+ CITIES WORLDWIDE

WHAT OUR SHOWS LOOK LIKE

DTC DIGITAL CHANNELS

Our clips reach billions.

We book the best emerging comics in the country, put them on stage, and film it.
Those shows become stand-up clips that travel across a network of 12M+ followers. The brand lives in the room, on the stage and in the frame, not in the caption. People choose to watch this content. That is what makes it so impactful to sponsor.

Two ways in:

Stand-up sets and clips: The content reaches the millions through our channels with your brand tagged, shown on stage, and logo front and center - with a custom CTA in the caption.

A brand-owned format: An original series, comics on camera, produced by us and running on your channels. You own it.

Clips buy reach. An owned format buys resonance.

DTC AUDIENCE

Grown up, employed, and authentic comedy lovers.

Our core audience is 25 to 44, United States heavy, and male-leaning without losing women. They pay for live comedy on a weeknight, which is a higher bar than a follow, although we have lots of those too. This is a prime working-age, digitally fluent audience with high spending power.

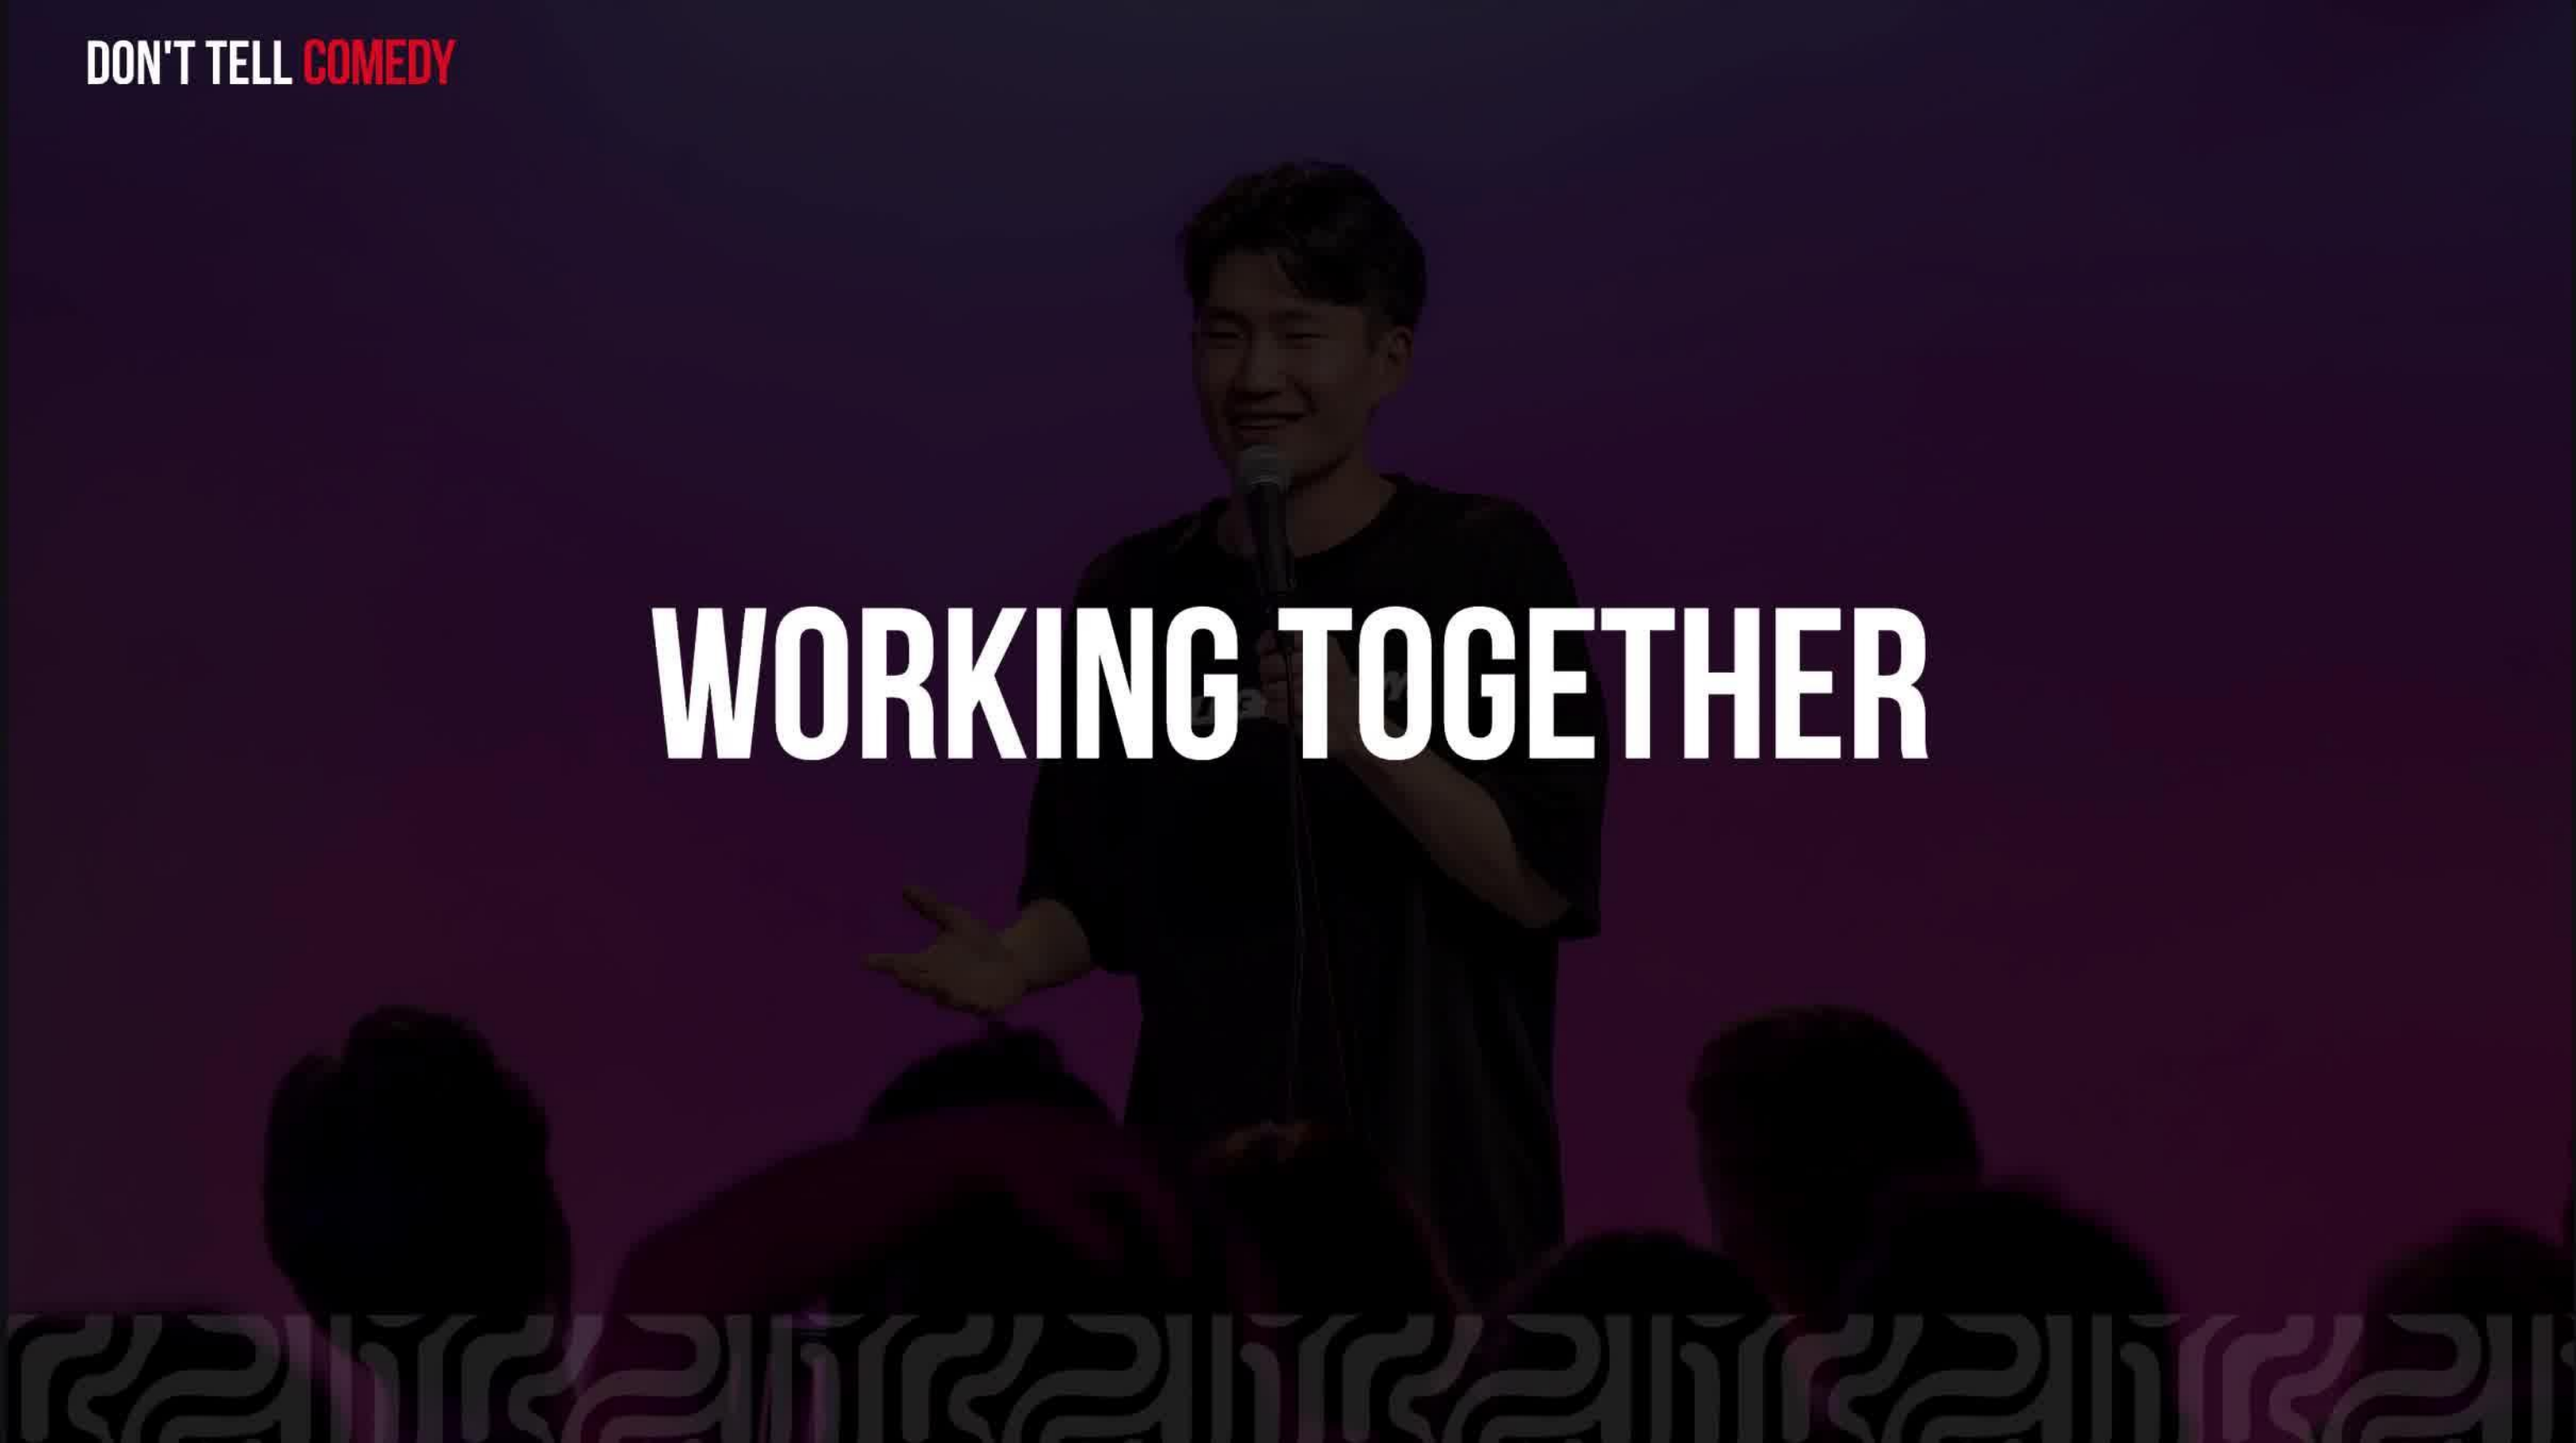

Live Show:
50/50 split Male/Female

Digital:
YouTube: 67% M, 33% F, 25-44 are over 60% of the views
Instagram: Even split between M/F, 68% are 21 - 34
TikTok: Even split between M/F, 44% are 25 - 34

WORKING TOGETHER

LIVE SHOW SPONSORSHIPS

Be the reason the best night of someone's week happened.

Sponsor the best night of everyone's week. A room of 70+ people laughing their asses off watching the best emerging talent from around the world.

How brands can show up in person:

- Presenting credit on the night, on stage and on every piece of show marketing: landing page, email, announcements.
- Host callouts tying the brand to the night. Guaranteed from the host. We do not script the comedians.
- Product in hands. Sampling to everyone who wants one, poured or handed by our staff, in venues with the right license.
- A built environment. Backdrops, stage sets and signage designed around the brand rather than stuck to the wall behind it.
- QR code Signup, demo or experience stations where the format supports one.

DIGITAL CONTENT SPONSORSHIPS

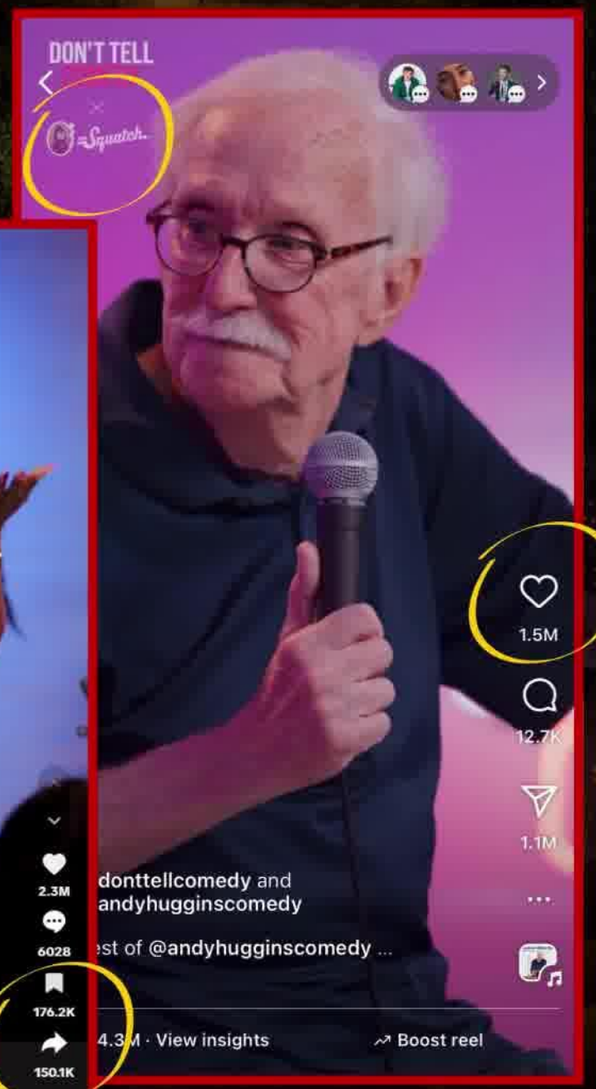

Distributed through our massive channels.

We aim to create the best looking stand-up clips online, and you can be a part of that. Our content keeps on working for months after the night, which is the part media buyers usually underestimate.

How brands can show up online:

- We film a sponsored DTC show chalked full of amazing talent, pulling the best jokes to cut into vertical clips for social and then posted across our channels, the comics' channels and the brand's. Branding lives on the stage and in the frame.
- A brand-owned format. An original series built with us, fronted by comics, distributed on the brand's channels. The brand owns the asset and the audience it builds.
- Collab posts. Joint posts that put the brand's handle on content our audience already came for.
- Paid use rights. Content cleared for the brand's own paid media, so the best performing pieces can be pushed further.

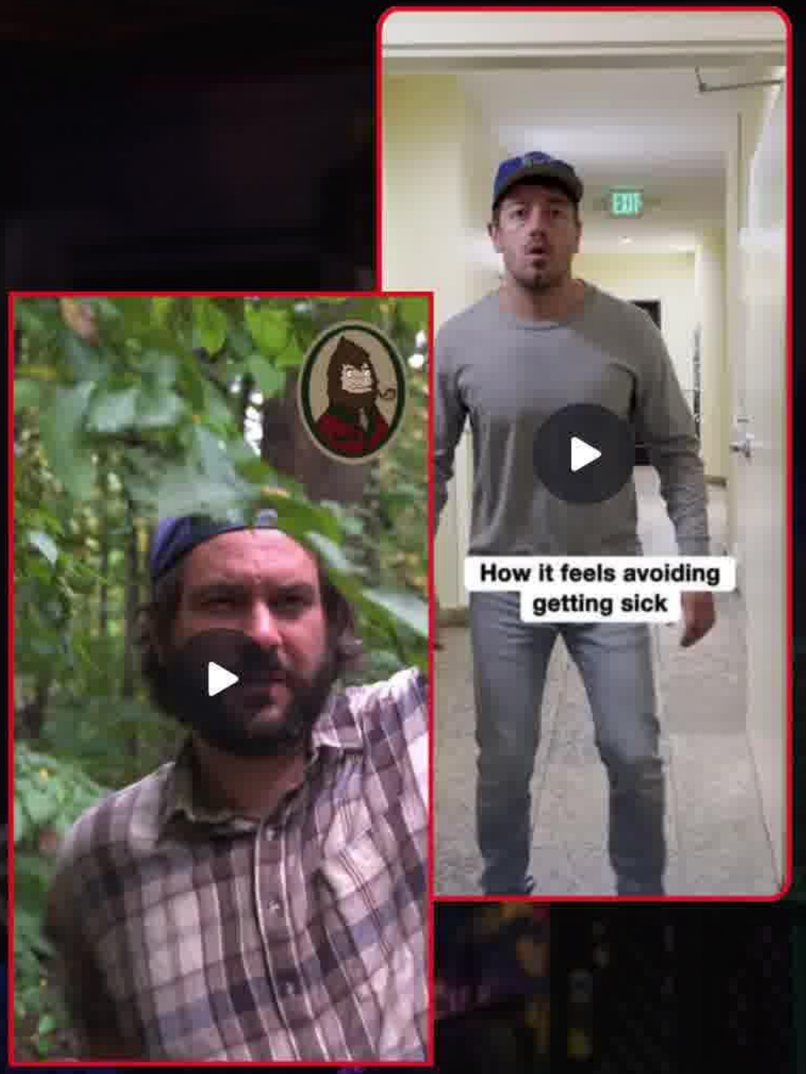

COMEDIAN SPONSORSHIPS

Partner with comedians on hilarious branded content.

We work with a network of 9,000+ professional comedians. Most of them with growing or already large existing online audiences, and a brand can reach those directly.

How brands can show up online:

- Branded content with comedians. Comics create in their own voice and post to their own channels, carrying a brand message to audiences beyond ours.
- Stand-up clips at DTC shows. We film the comics and their stand up clips get distributed through their channels with your brand tagged or as a collab.
- Gifting. Product to comics, including some comic UGC unboxing and showing your product in their authentic tone.
- A comic fronting a format. One recognizable face carrying a brand-owned series.
- Whitelisting. Rights to run the strongest posts as paid.

BUILT FOR YOU

None of this is a set menu

Most of what we have built started as somebody asking for something that was not on the list. A QR code signup before a show. A national competition. A show inside a brand's store. A format nobody had made yet.

We produce everything ourselves and work directly with the brand, with no experiential agency in the middle. That means the idea and the execution get decided in the same conversation, and the thing that shows up in the room is the thing that was pitched.

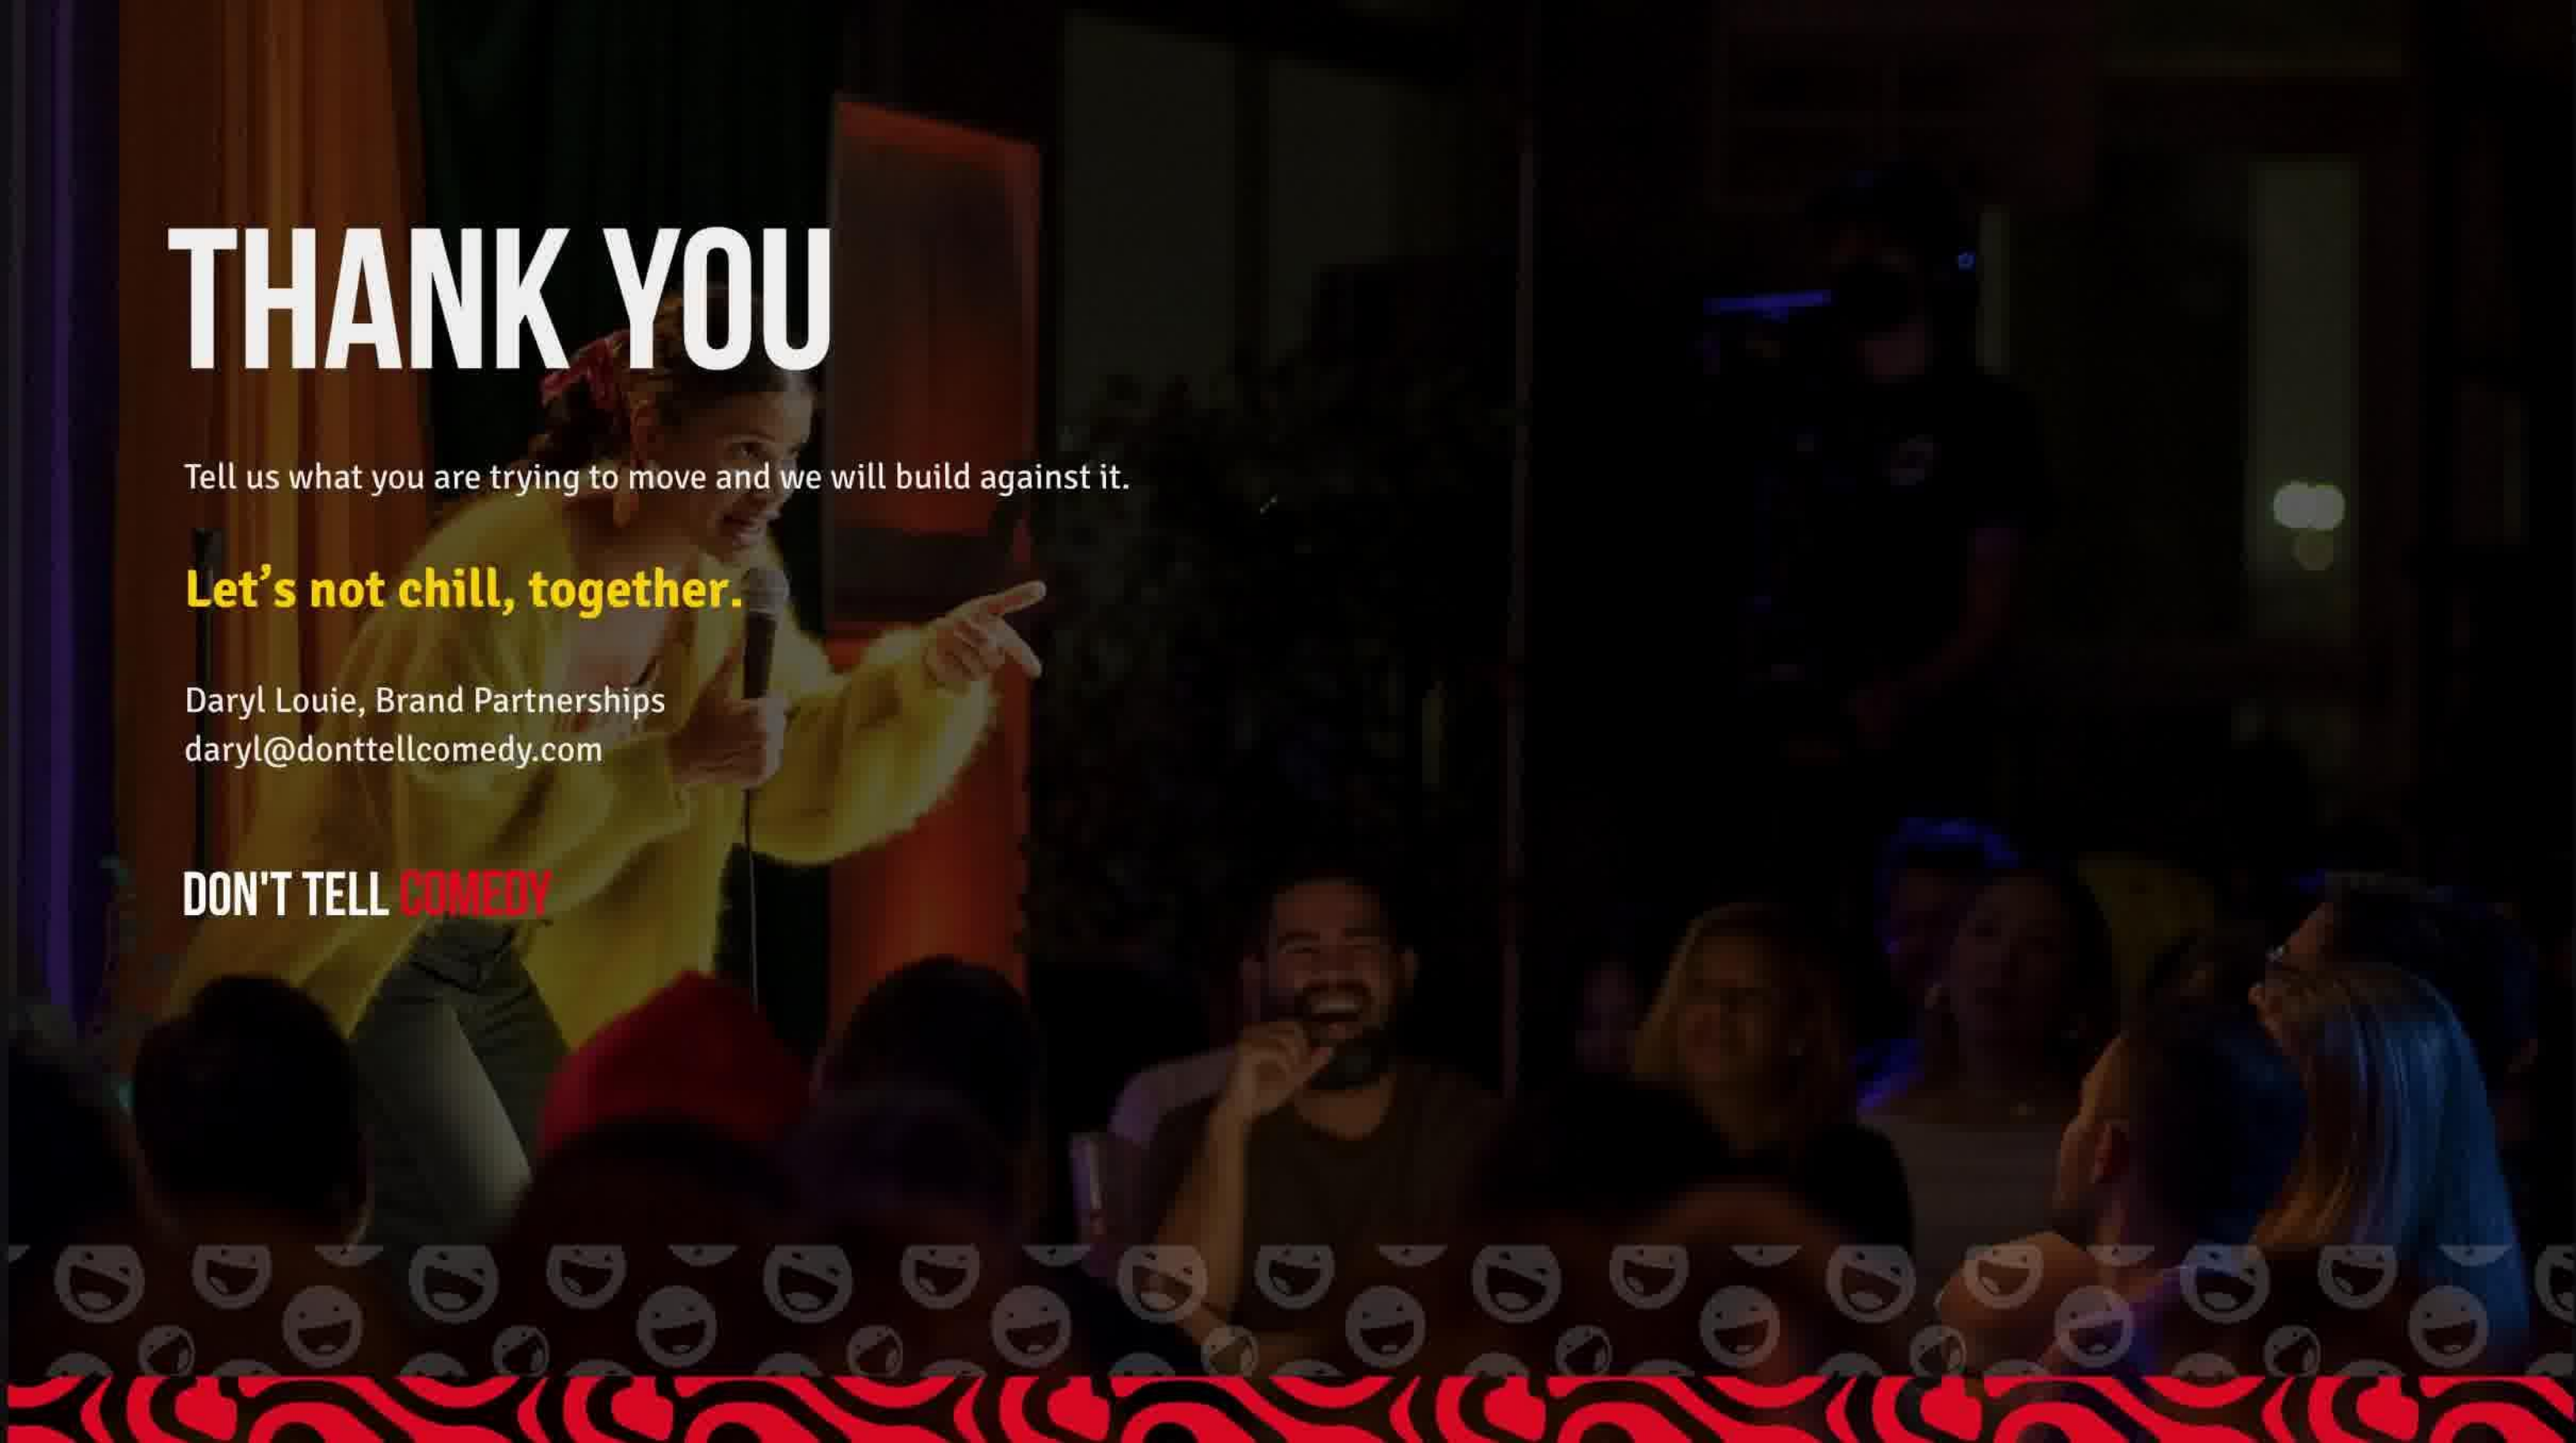

Tell us the objective and the constraint, and we will come back with ideas built around them.

Virgin Voyages x Don't Tell Comedy

Virgin Voyages partnered with Don't Tell Comedy to headline its 2026 U.S. Comedy Festival at Sea, bringing a digital-first comedy format onboard to reimagine cruise entertainment.

The Opportunity:

Cruise entertainment often feels outdated and disconnected from modern culture.

Virgin needed:

- A format that resonates with a younger, social-first audience
- A way to differentiate from traditional cruise competitors
- Programming that extends into content and earned media

Execution: Experiential + Content Capture + Talent Programming

A multi-day, ship-wide comedy takeover designed for IRL and URL.

Don’t Tell Comedy transformed the ship into a living comedy ecosystem, delivering continuous programming across the festival.

Execution included:

- Surprise pop-up comedy shows in multiple onboard venues
- A curated mix of headliners and emerging comedians
- Intimate, high-energy performances true to the Don’t Tell format
- Ongoing programming that made comedy a core part of the guest experience

Content was captured throughout to:

- Produce short-form, social-first comedy clips
- Extend reach beyond the ship to global digital audiences

Outcome

- Positioned Virgin Voyages as a culturally forward entertainment brand
- Delivered a differentiated, premium onboard experience
- Generated ongoing social content and earned media potential
- Established a blueprint for repeatable comedy-led partnerships at scale

A distributed comedy content system driving awareness at scale.

Don't Tell Comedy extended beyond the onboard experience by activating its comedian network as a built-in marketing engine.

Execution included:

- 48 total content pieces (24 pre-festival, 24 during/around the cruise)
- Content published across comedians' owned social channels
- 1 Brand owned Hero piece of content featuring a headliner
- 3.5M+ combined audience reach across talent
- Creative designed to feel entertaining, not salesy

Impact:

- 6M–8M comedy fan impressions generated across all posts

Content strategy focused on:

- Building anticipation pre-event
- Capturing real moments during the festival
- Creating a continuous social presence around the experience
- Building hype for the next Festival

Traditional Medicinals

In 2025, Traditional Medicinals partnered with Don't Tell Comedy to celebrate the power of laughter and voice through a 10 city comedy tour and creator collaboration program for their hero product Throat Coat Tea.

Anchored to their seasonal campaign tagline "Voices are for using, not losing - but we made it voices are for laughing, not losing," the partnership brought the brand to life through ten sold-out live shows and original branded content from top comedians in the Don't Tell Comedy network.

The campaign celebrated vocal well-being with humor and authenticity, from tea and lozenges in the greenroom to punchlines on stage - reminding audiences that healthy voices deserve to be heard (and laughed with).

DON'T TELL COMEDY / TRADITIONAL MEDICINALS / COMEDIAN + COMEDY FAN ENGAGEMENT

Traditional Medicinals sponsored 10 Secret Sets across the U.S., uniting local comedy fans around moments of warmth and laughter powered by Throat Coat.

Key Highlights

INTEGRATED SOCIAL + LIVE

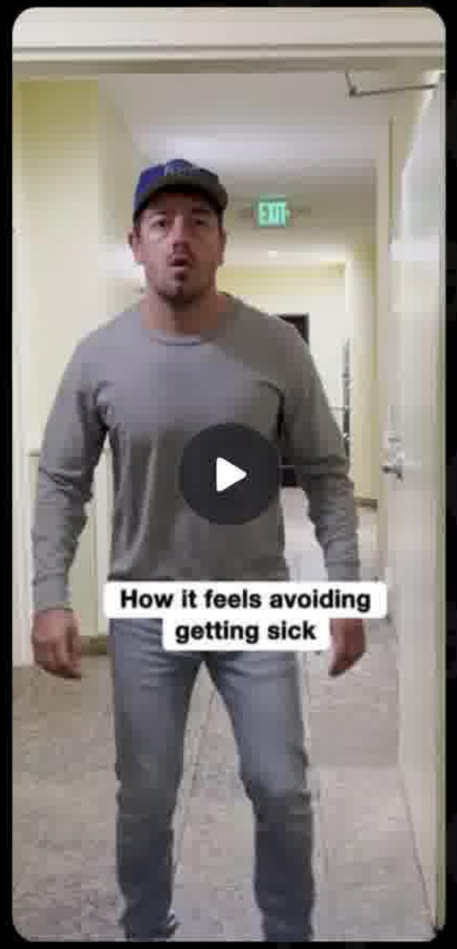

Impact beyond the stage

Four Don't Tell Comedy comics: Joey Avery, Matty Chymbor, Luke Mones, and Ellen Harrold - brought Throat Coat Tea to life through branded comedy content on their own channels. By leaning into their unique voices while delivering heavier brand messaging, these comedians authentically amplified Traditional Medicinals commitment to comedy and vocal wellness.

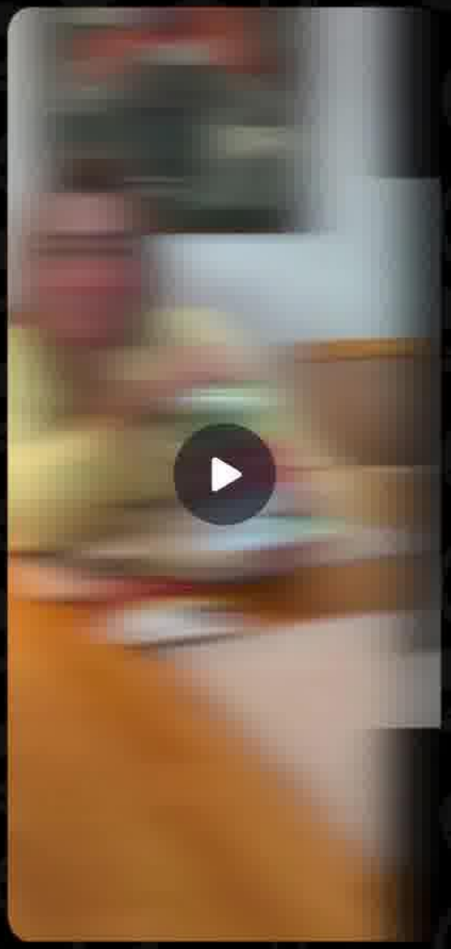

Their content overlapped with the 10 sponsored live shows, creating a cohesive, multi-city campaign that turned laughs into lasting awareness.

Highlights:

- 4 top comedians with 1M+ total followers across Instagram and TikTok
- Custom in-feed videos on TikTok and Instagram + Instagram Stories from each professional comic
- Heavier branded storytelling delivered in each comic's authentic tone, whitelisted to extend reach branded messaging
- Professional comic created content aligned with 10 live DTC shows nationwide
- Unified digital and live execution reinforcing "Voices are for laughing, not losing"

Long Drink Live Shows + Digital Content + Sampling

Long Drink partnered with Don’t Tell Comedy for a nationwide campaign spanning 260 shows across 25 U.S. markets.

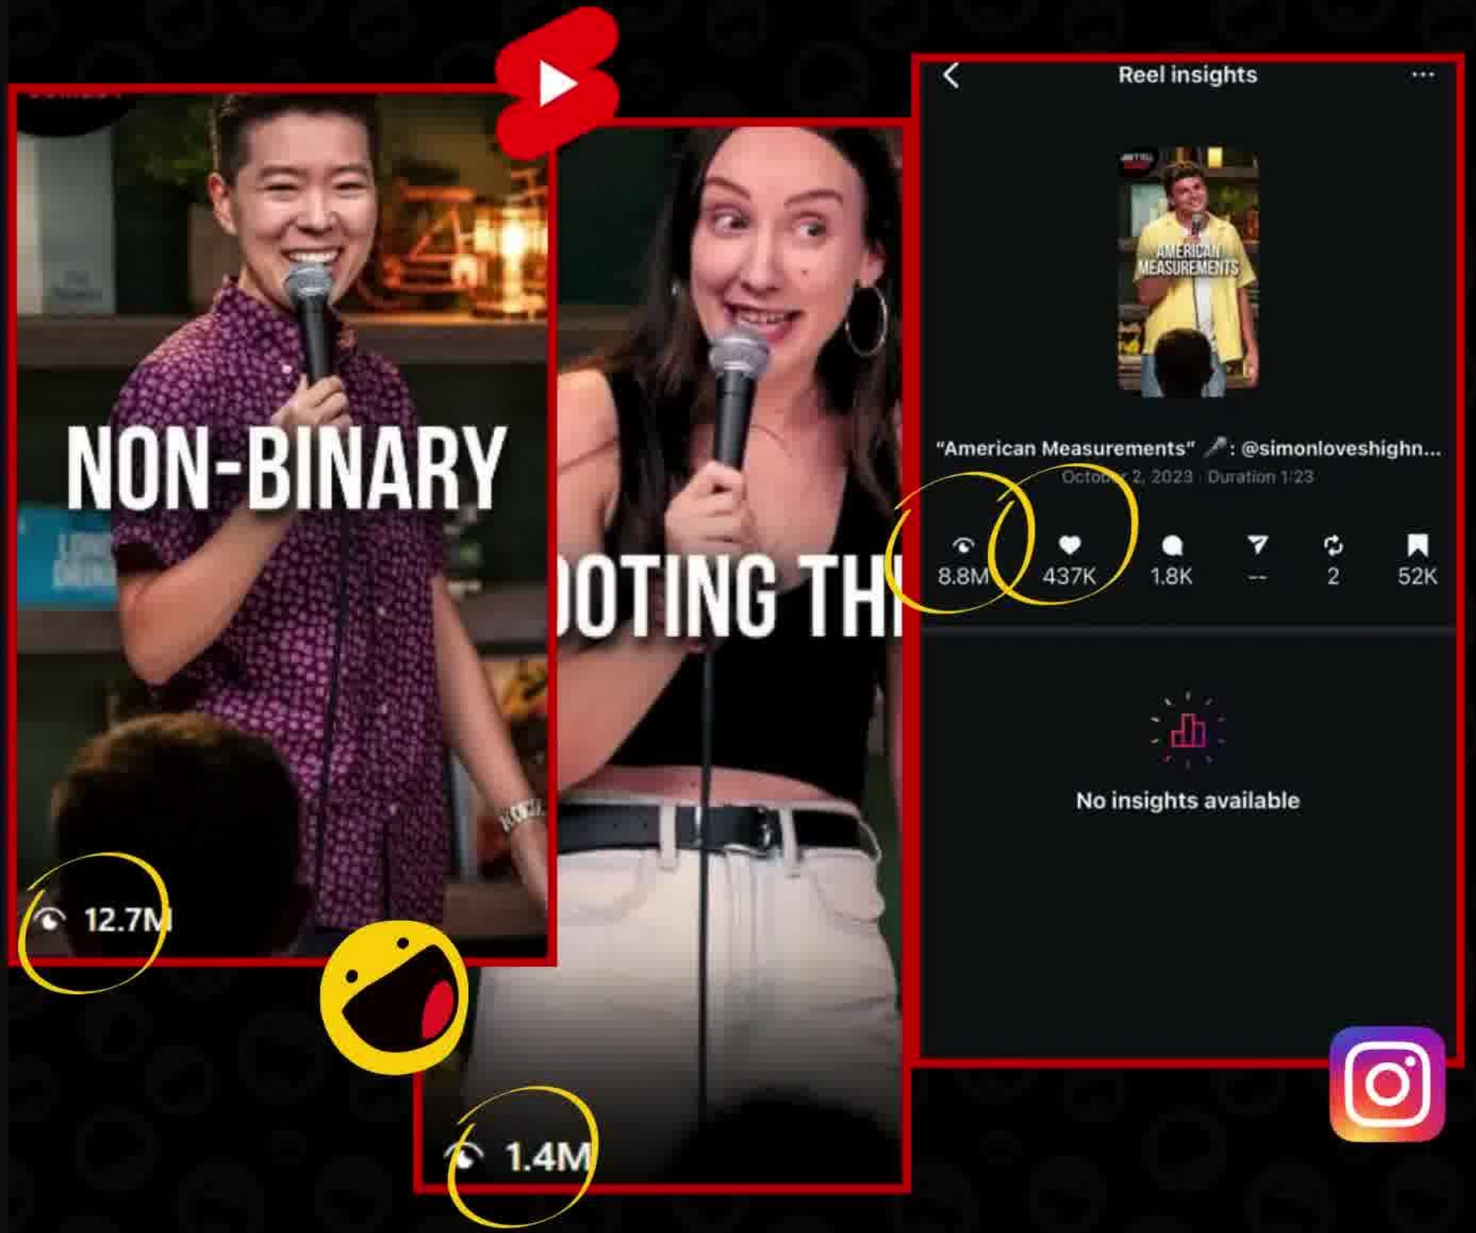

Every attendee received an ice-cold Long Drink upon entry, making product sampling the centerpiece of the experience. The activation introduced the brand to tens of thousands of comedy fans in a fun, social setting while showcasing DTC’s ability to scale high-quality, localized events nationwide.

DTC also created sponsored Digital clips featuring Long Drink branding and social tags - which racked up over 112 Million views online.

By pairing live comedy with easy, authentic sampling, the partnership created a powerful, repeatable model that turned casual trial into lasting brand affinity and genuine moments of shared enjoyment.

DON'T TELL COMEDY / LONG DRINK / DIGITAL + SOCIAL

To complement the live activation, Don't Tell Comedy integrated Long Drink branding directly into the filmed sets, featuring the can on every comedian's stool and subtle product placement in the background design.

Select performances were professionally filmed and distributed across DTC's digital network, extending the partnership far beyond the room.

Results

- 110 million+ short-form views on YouTube Shorts, TikTok, Instagram, and Facebook
- 2 million+ long-form branded views on YouTube
- Subtle brand integration woven into every performance
- Consistent visual presence across social platforms and stages

This combination of authentic live moments and high-quality digital storytelling turned a summer sampling program into a nationwide social phenomenon.

In 2025, Monster Energy partnered with Don’t Tell Comedy to bring its high energy personality to the stage through a series of custom produced comedy tapings.

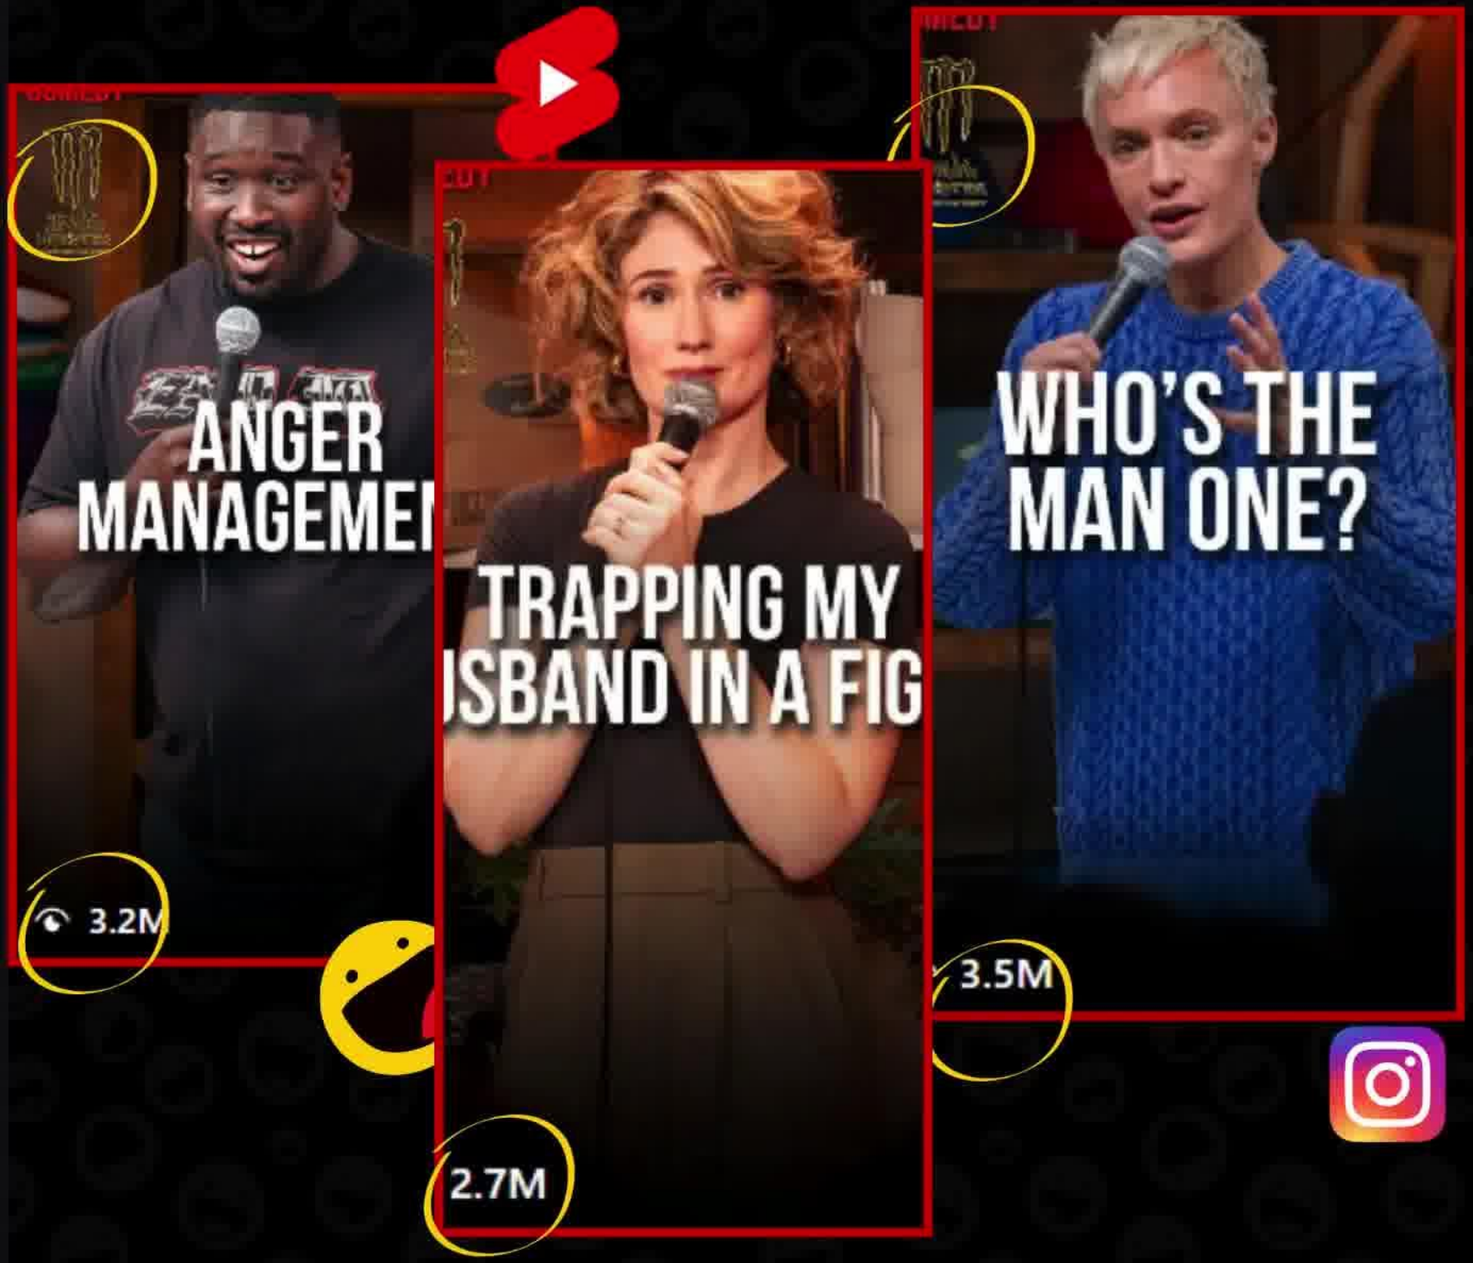

The collaboration spanned 8 live shows featuring 7 half hour specials and 5 ten minute sets, filmed for social distribution and built around the spirit of Java Monster.

Every element of production reflected the brand, from custom sets incorporating Monster and Java product to chilled cans served to fans and performers. The result was a seamless blend of comedy, culture, and caffeine that connected Monster to audiences in a fresh and memorable way.

DON'T TELL COMEDY / MONSTER ENERGY / DIGITAL + SOCIAL

Each taping was produced as an immersive Monster Energy experience.

Highlights:

- 8 live shows featuring 7 half hour specials and 5 ten minute sets
- More than 1,000 cans sampled to attendees by DTC staff
- Custom set design with Monster Energy and Java Monster branding
- Care packages created for all performing comedians
- Featured top tier talent included Shapel Lacey, Usama Siddiquee, Geoffrey Asmus, KC Shornima, Emma Willmann and more

All shows were filmed and edited by the DTC production team, turning every taping into premium social content.

Results:

- More than 70 short form clips shared across DTC social channels
- More than 100 million organic views featuring Monster branding and tagged account
- On screen call to action included across clips
- Consistent visual presence through product placement and set design

This extended Monster's presence far beyond the room and captured massive attention across multiple platforms.
