Dear Impact Partner,

“Together We Make... Stories. Culture. Community.” is more than this year’s theme — it’s how we’re approaching every partnership for our 13th annual festival. Whether you’ve stood with us for years or you’re just discovering DBFF, we’re not looking for a name on a banner. We’re looking for collaborators/ partners who help shape the stories we tell, the culture we build, and the community we bring together every January.

In January 2027, Denton, Texas will be home to the first Black Film Festival of the year. Over 12 years, DBFF has grown into one of the fastest-growing cultural film festivals in the country — 9,000+ attendees, 100+ films, and five days of film, music, spoken word, comedy, art, and education. TravelMag.com named us one of the Best Festivals in Texas, and we’re not done growing.

This year we turn 13 with our most ambitious festival yet: nationally recognized talent, an always-on national press push, a brand-new festival app debuting in 2027 with sponsor placements and real engagement data, and new branded activations built with partners, not just for them. Our audience travels for it 30% from outside DFW, staying 3–5 nights generating an estimated $2.1M+ in local economic activity each year.

This year’s festival runs January 27–31, 2027, in person at the historic Campus Theatre and Alamo Drafthouse joined this year by the newly restored Fine Arts Theater, one of the only screening venues in the region with true 70mm projection. Our virtual platform extends the experience nationwide through February 8.

We’re proud that the City of Denton continues to stand with us as a 2027 presenting sponsor. And whether you’re renewing a partnership that helped build this festival or joining us for the first time, we’re offering the same thing: a real seat at the table, input on your activation, a voice in how your brand shows up, and a share in what we build together, not just visibility on it.

This booklet outlines impact levels from Diamond through Friend, each meant as a starting point for that conversation, not the whole of it. Questions, or ready to talk details? Reach me directly at harrydbff@gmail.com or (940) 368-6918. Thank you for considering this opportunity to make stories, culture, and community with us.

Warm regards,

Harry Eaddy

ONE OF THE FASTEST-GROWING CULTURAL FILM FESTIVALS IN AMERICA

Now in its 13th year, the five-day Denton Black Film Festival has drawn acclaimed filmmakers, artists, and culturally engaged audiences from across the country, with a program ranging from premiere screenings and filmmaker Q&As to the very best in music, spoken word, comedy, art, gaming, and education.

This year's theme, "Together We Make… Stories. Culture. Community.", captures how DBFF approaches every partnership — not names on a banner, but collaborators helping shape the stories told, the culture built, and the community brought together each January.

Set against the backdrop of historic downtown Denton in North Texas, the celebrated festival has become a cultural destination each winter — named one of the Best Festivals in Texas and recognized as one of the fastest-growing celebrations of Black storytelling in the country.
